Personal Statement

My ambition is to follow a university which provides academic facilities for my favorite subject, which is Early Childhood Education. The admission will provide me a chance to increase my analytical skills and research techniques. As far as my knowledge and abilities are concerned, these skills and experiences have added value to my life. I have maintained highest performance standards throughout my career with a diverse experience. I would be able to use these abilities to further grow and excel in life.

I have completed my M.A. in Early Childhood Education and want to pursue my studies to be challenged biblically and academically during my studies as well as in professional career. This will help me in achieving my career goals. Early Childhood Education is an important graduate program which aims to provide different ways for children's education. I need to explore different and innovative ways for childhood education. My professional and academic career is aligned with the mentioned program. Therefore, I consider myself to be the ideal candidate for this program.

I will have to create a balance between education and entertainment. I shall also seek different ways to attain children attention through this program. My purpose and aim is to develop personalities of children in an effective way and show their capabilities, abilities and skills to the world. I have remained involved in campus clubs and organizations at different levels. The leadership capabilities have made me confident in establishing and maintaining the new infrastructure. This study program will offer me a unique opportunity of learning and interacting with children. Individual coaching and mentoring for development of children will deliver me with a rich mixture of occasions for advancing my academic as well as professional career. I believe it would be great chance for me to develop these skills. I assure for zeal commitment and handwork if given an opportunity.
